

Synopsis

The website I am working on is Village Medical it is a patient registration form that asks for the patient personal information, contact information, address, what are their symptoms, rate their symptoms and have the opportunity to set up their account to access the information that will be giving to them. I was happy I was able to get the radio buttons to work but I did have issue with the slide bar